Preface

Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College has served the citizens of the Middle Rio Grande region for over three decades. During this period RGC has grown not only in enrollment but also, and importantly as an agent of change and opportunity. As the only upper level institution within 150 miles, RGC plays a critical role in meeting the needs of its communities.

At our three major campus sites, RGC provides services to a region that approximates 19,000 square miles. RGC is a comprehensive upper level institution with an established partnerships with Southwest Texas Junior College, the more than 22 school districts of the region, as well as sister institutions in Mexico.

We are proud of our history. We stand ready to continue to meet the needs of the region and to prepare our students for a better tomorrow. RGC is an A++++ college. We are Accountable, we are Adaptable, we are Accessible, and we are Affordable. RGC, we are your future.

Included in the Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College Fact Book are general statistics about the institution and its student population. The information provided comes from collection of data by the Department of Institutional Research and Effectiveness. The data may differ slightly from reports completed by the department due to modifications, as the data collection forms are refined. In all instances the data is as accurate as possible and the collection process is identical each semester.
I. INSTITUTIONAL PROFILE

Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College

TYPE OF INSTITUTION: Public, upper level centers (Eagle Pass, Del Rio, Uvalde) established in 1973 and attached to Sul Ross State University in Alpine, Texas. Rio Grande College offers junior, senior and graduate (Masters) level courses.

ENROLLMENT: The enrollment at Rio Grande College has steadily risen since its inception in 1973. In the fall of 1991 the enrollment was 547 students. A decade later in the fall of 2001 the enrollment reached 810 students, a head count of 2,828 for AY 01-02, and a credit hour total of 17,502. Fall enrollment for 2003 stood at 950, by fall of 2004 it increased to 1055.

AGE: RGC, by virtue of its upper level status, serves older, nontraditional students. The average age for RGC students is 32.

GENDER: Females makeup nearly three-quarters of the student population at RGC (72 percent for Fall 2003 and 2004).

ETHNICITY: Based on Fall 2003 enrollment 79% of the students were Hispanic, 17% were White, there was no data for 2%, and 2% made the remaining.

GRADUATES: During the 2003-2004 Academic Year, Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College awarded 240 degrees (BA, BS, BBA, M.Ed, and MBA)

FULL & PART-TIME: The Fall 2003 figures reflected 25 percent of students attending RGC attended on a full-time basis and 74 percent attended on a part-time basis.

TYPE OF STUDENTS: Based on the Fall 2003 semester, 59 percent of RGC students indicated being first generation; the largest segment of the student population was seniors (35%); 58 percent indicate entering RGC with a degree already earned – minimum AA, and maximum masters; 37 percent of RGC students indicate being married; 33 percent indicate being employed, and 34 percent indicated gross income less than $20,000.

TRENDS: As more programs are added to those already offered, and bi-national educational agreements are established with Mexican institutions of higher learning in Piedras Negras and Acuña, it is anticipated that RGC’s enrollment of U. S. and international students will increase at a slightly higher rate than in previous years.

SERVICE AREA: The service area of Rio Grande College comprises the thirteen counties of Atascosa, Bandera, Dimmit, Edwards, Frio, Kinney, La Salle, Maverick, Medina, Real, Uvalde, Val Verde and Zavala.
The Rio Grande College History

Del Rio, Eagle Pass, and Uvalde

The Rio Grande College of Sul Ross State University, with sites at Del Rio, Eagle Pass, and Uvalde, serves thirteen counties in Southwest Texas. Sometimes referred to as the Southwest Texas Badlands, this area is known for its fields of purple sage and its Old West ambiance. In this atmosphere, the College works continually towards higher standards of excellence in teaching and learning. The Rio Grande College offers junior, senior, and graduate coursework with programs in Liberal Arts, Business, and Teacher Education. Some courses are also offered on the Laughlin Air Force Base near Del Rio.

Begun originally as the Sul Ross State University Study Center, the College was renamed the Uvalde Study Center in 1985, and again the Uvalde Center in 1989. Recognizing its service to the broad area of the Middle Rio Grande and Wintergarden regions of Texas, the Legislature renamed it Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College in 1995. Sul Ross and the southwest are closely tied. The blending of the Hispanic and Anglo heritages makes Sul Ross perfect for anyone who seeks intellectual development with emphasis on the mutual culture that all Americans share.

The student body consists of multi-cultural, traditional, and non-traditional students. Campus activities and opportunities are designed for everyone. Activities include a calendar of programming events, publication of students' creative writing, a student newspaper, a yearbook, and five student organizations: the International Reading Association, the National Council for Teachers of English, a service learning club, a business club, and an editor’s club. Additionally, the College students participate in an annual leadership retreat. The Education Department sponsors the annual "Issues in Education" lectures; the Liberal Arts Department sponsors trips to cultural activities such as the San Antonio Ballet and Shakespeare in the Park; and the Business Administration Department offers public lectures with noted experts on business topics. Additionally, tutoring sessions are available in all areas for anyone who would like extra help with his or her studies. Overall, Sul Ross offers a stimulating academic environment with an emphasis on the student.

The College Sites

Del Rio

Del Rio, Texas, sister city of Ciudad Acuna, Mexico, combines the ambiance of Mexico with American culture to form a diversified city. Nearby, the Pecos River joins the Devil's River and the Rio Grande to create Lake Amistad, the ninth largest of its kind in the United States with more than 850 miles of shoreline. Its canyons, cliffs, and caves provide both scenery and a place filled with history. Del Rio is the home of the Whitehead Memorial Museum with its log cabin, cultural folk art exhibit, and numerous other historical displays. A visit to Whitehead is like taking a stroll through history. Judge Roy Bean, "The Law West of the Pecos," is buried here. West of Del Rio is Seminole Canyon State Historical Park where 10,000-year-old pictographs adorn the canyon walls. Del Rio provides a perfect place for learning about life (and education) on the border, and Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College is proud to serve this region.
Eagle Pass

Eagle Pass, located on the border across from Piedras Negras, Mexico, is the center of a thriving international trade community. First established as a camp in 1849, Eagle Pass has grown into a city of over 25,000 people. With a variety of shops and malls, it is the gateway to Piedras Negras' colorful outdoor markets and handiwork of the Mexican tradition. Biculturalism flourishes in Eagle Pass, and it is common for people in Eagle Pass to speak both Spanish and English. In this atmosphere, Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College strives to bring together diverse cultures.

Uvalde

Uvalde is a relatively old township in Southwest Texas. Settled in 1853, it served as a trading post for area settlers and forts along the Nueces River. Prior to Texas' annexation, many battles were fought along the Nueces River in an attempt to settle the boundary dispute between Texas and Mexico. Turn of the century architecture is still evident in Uvalde. Nestled along tree shaded streets are many elegant old homes, dating back to the late 1890s and early 1900s. Many storied houses with long porches, balconies, and tall graceful columns preserve a testament to the past. The huge old oaks that were so numerous in the area are so loved by the city that many streets are built around the trees.

Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College Statement

MISSION:

Sul Ross State University was created by act of the Thirty-Fifth Legislature of Texas in 1917 as a state normal college with the primary purpose of preparing teachers for the public schools of West Texas. In 1921 the mission was expanded to provide course work in general academic requirements equivalent to two years of college. In 1923 the State Legislature changed the name of the institution to Sul Ross State Teachers College, and course work was added leading to baccalaureate degrees in liberal arts disciplines. Master's degree studies were added in 1930. With name changes in 1949 to Sul Ross State College, and again in 1969, to Sul Ross State University, the institution continued to have a broadened mission. The Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College, an upper level component established in 1973, is an integral part of the University offering junior, senior, and graduate work in selected programs.

The University's main campus is situated in the unique learning and living environment of the Big Bend region and is the primary institution of higher education serving a nineteen-county area in West Texas. The Rio Grande College, located on the campus of Southwest Texas Junior College, offers educational programs for a thirteen-county region of the Southwest Texas not served by any other senior-level institution of higher education. The student body reflects the population of the area, which includes a large percentage of students from rural settings and a mixture of ethnic groups. Additionally, the University attracts students from several states and foreign countries.

As a coeducational, comprehensive, public institution of higher education offering certificate programs and associate, baccalaureate, and master's degree programs, Sul Ross State University has three major functions: teaching, research, and public service. The University provides an atmosphere conducive to the free exchange of ideas, to the fostering of an appreciation of diversity, and to the development of professionalism among all who participate in its activities and services.
Sul Ross State University provides effective faculty and staff, appropriate facilities, plus relevant instructional resources, student life programs, and support services to enhance teaching and other opportunities for learning. The University supports research and scholarship to advance knowledge, to facilitate teaching, to encourage professional development, and to utilize the distinctive environment of the Big Bend and Middle Rio Grande areas of Texas. Athletic, cultural, educational, and intercollegiate activities serve as the focus for the public service endeavors of the University.

The ultimate outcome of higher education enables the individual to utilize knowledge and skills for personal growth and professional development. To this end, the University seeks to cultivate in its students:

Mastery of analytical, communication, and computational skills: Students will be able to analyze statements and situations and use logical processes to solve problems; to communicate effectively orally and in writing; and to solve quantitative problems at or above the level of college algebra.

Mastery of a general body of knowledge: From the general education core curriculum, students will acquire a common set of intellectual, physical, and aesthetic experiences designed to give them a breadth of knowledge.

Competency in an area of specialization: Students will acquire in-depth knowledge of major issues, techniques, and theories in one or two subject areas. Graduates will be able to function as entry-level practitioners in professions that are related to their area of specialization; achieve advanced levels of professional development; and/or enter and successfully complete graduate programs of study.

Integrity, tolerance, and ethical values: Students will develop qualities of good citizenship including an appreciation for and commitment to living and performing their work conscientiously; they will learn to recognize, respect, and understand cultural diversity; and they will learn to recognize the implications of what they believe.

Attitudes and skills leading to life-long learning: Students will acquire the skills and techniques which enable them to engage in self-learning and a spirit of intellectual curiosity leading to independent and purposeful life-long learning.
Office of Institutional Research & Effectiveness

Mission: To assist in the furtherance of the goals of Sul Ross State University Rio Grande College by working with other offices, faculty, and staff in collection of internal data; to assist with academic research; to assist with submission of reports and grants, and to assist with evaluation and assessment of programs ensuring effectiveness of all facets of the university’s services.

Goals:
1. Assist internal and external offices and personnel by providing support to colleagues and outside stakeholders that will assist them in completion of their work.

2. Assist faculty and outside stakeholders involved in academic research.

3. Work with faculty, staff and other university offices to enhance the quality and effectiveness of the services provided by the institution.

4. Prepare data and offer assistance to internal and external stakeholders to ensure their success, and the success of the university.

5. Collect, maintain, evaluate, assess and use institutional data to create effective plans to reach well thought-out objectives.

6. Contribute to the institution-wide effort to provide the type of programs and services that will present the university in a positive light.

7. Prepare and distribute educational and demographic data for each semester to faculty and university offices.
