Introduction to Practicum

The clinical (practicum) experience is the final step in your training as a counseling student at Sul Ross State University. One of the primary experiences in the master’s program in Counseling is the clinical coursework embodied in practicum and internship.

This is an opportunity to further enhance your counseling, diagnostic, treatment planning, psychoeducational, administrative, and guidance skills. You are undertaking a serious professional responsibility and working with diverse client populations in school, community, addictions, and college student affairs settings. The primary objective of the courses is to provide experiences, consultation, and supervision to help students become effective counselors. The practicum manual serves as a resource for the field site experience. This experience is the culmination of your theoretical and practical skills training, allowing the faculty to assess your ability to fulfill the professional responsibilities and mastery of an entry-level counselor within your chosen concentration.

You are not in this experience alone. During your practicum, you will be supervised by a qualified, on-site, appropriately certified/licensed counseling professional. This person is a seasoned professional who will serve as your On-Site Supervisor and meet with you for individual supervision. Additionally, you will enroll in an online practicum class with a SRSU professor serving as your Practicum instructor. All forms required for practicum are included in this manual.

Students are required to familiarize themselves with the content in the manual and for abiding by the requirements and policies therein.

Definitions, Goals and Objectives

Throughout this manual, certain terms related to the clinical experience are used repeatedly. These terms are defined below, which will help you better understand the clinical requirements and give you more information about the clinical experience itself.

When writing your goals, you should write for each area for a total of four (4) goals. You must write at least one objective for each goal. You may write more than one if you want to, but each goal must have at least one objective. Remember, goals are broad and objectives are more specific. Questions to ask yourself when writing goals:

- What goals/outcomes do you want to achieve?
- How will you know that the goal/event is successful?
- How will you know that you have achieved the goal/outcome?
- What approaches (strategies) are you thinking of using?
- How will you decide which approaches/strategies to use?
- As you carry out this goal or even, what do you see as your personal learning focus?
- What information will you be gathering to self-monitor the process?
- How will you monitor progress toward the goal/event?

The following definitions, in congruence with those supplied in the Texas Administrative Code, Chapter 681 “Professional Counselors” will apply:

Individual counseling [with individual clients]—utilizes interpersonal, cognitive, cognitive-behavioral, behavioral, psychodynamic, and affective methods and strategies to achieve mental, emotional, physical, social, moral, educational, career, and spiritual development and adjustment through the life span.

Individual goal/objective example:

Goal: Increase knowledge and practice of reality therapy

Objective 1: I will be able to increase my knowledge and use of reality therapy when working with students.

Group counseling [with 2 or more students/clients]—utilizes interpersonal, cognitive, cognitive-behavioral, behavioral, psychodynamic, and affective methods and strategies to achieve mental, emotional, physical, social, moral, educational, career, and spiritual development and adjustment through the life span.

Group goal/objective example:

Goal: Encourage personal and social development of students by holding at least 4 experiential groups.
Objective 1: I will be able to guide students in In School Suspension (ISS) through techniques that will help them to improve their impulse control.

Assessing and appraising [Testing and Appraisal]—utilizes formal and informal instruments and procedures, for which the counselor has received appropriate training and supervision, in individual and group settings for the purposes of determining the clients’ strengths and weaknesses, mental condition, emotional stability, intellectual ability, interests, aptitudes, achievement level and other personal characteristics for a better understanding of human behavior, and for diagnosing mental problems; but does not permit the diagnosis of a physical condition or disorder. [Note: Certified school counselors do not diagnose mental problems; licensed professional counselors do not administer projective testing. All formal appraisals are to be conducted under supervision of site supervisor.]

Assessment goal/objective example:

Goal: Administer a curriculum and standards-based educational and career planning tool assessment.

Objective 1: I will be able to understand and implement age appropriate career planning tools as well as preparing students for college entrance assessments.

Career development counseling—utilizes formal and informal counseling methods and appraisal instruments for the purpose of determining intellectual ability, interest, skill, aptitude, achievement, mental condition, emotional fitness, and other personal characteristics for occupational, vocational, and career selection and placement throughout the life span.

Career goal/objective example:

Goal: Assist high school seniors in creating a career portfolio for use during job interviews, scholarship applications submissions, and/or college/university intakes and admissions.

Objective 1: I will be able to understand and help with seniors with developing their career portfolio (hard copies and e-files).

Direct hours under supervision are those hours accrued when the intern works directly, face-to-face, with individuals or groups in counseling activities. (Note: in ED 7316A, school counselor interns will incorporate direct guidance and counseling activities with students, parents, and system support individuals. Supervised telephonic contact with parents/guardians regarding students’ counseling issues may be considered direct hours, at the discretion of the site supervisor.) Hours accrued when directly administering a counseling-related assessment instrument to individuals or groups may be counted as direct hours; the time spent interpreting the instrument face-to-face with the individuals and/or family members may also be counted as direct hours.

Indirect hours are those hours spent in preparation for individual or group guidance or counseling activities, including preparation for career counseling activities, family counseling, and for assessment/appraisal. (For example, an intern’s study of test manuals and test instructions would be considered indirect hours, but his actually administering the test in person and then visiting with the student to interpret results would be direct hours. Preparing materials for a grief small group would be indirect hours, but the actual time spent facilitating the group would be direct hours. Conducting an individual counseling session face-to-face would be direct hours, but documentation afterwards would be indirect hours. Leading a psycho-
Educational group for stress management would be direct hours, but copying handouts or setting up the room would be indirect hours. Other indirect hours include case conferences, staffing, writing case notes, and speaking with supervisors or other staff regarding clients.

Supervision—each intern is required to meet for one hour, face-to-face, each week during the duration of the practicum/internship with his/her site supervisor to review goals, to assess progress or challenges in counseling clients, to solicit direction or observe modeling in applying counseling skills, and to confirm the accumulation of direct and indirect hours. Interns are also expected to stay in regular communication with the university supervisor (refer to the participation requirement in this syllabus and to the instructions regarding submission of activity logs, reflections, and other documentation).

Practicum - the clinical/practical training for counseling students in a professional setting aligned with their counseling concentration. The training requires one semester of 160 hours (minimally), during which time students provide counseling, guidance, psycho-educational, and administrative services similar to professional counselors working in that setting. This is practical training whereby students implement the theoretical and practical knowledge and skills learned in counseling courses in direct service to clients. Students are expected to be involved in one-on-one counseling, group counseling, group guidance (if applicable), diagnosis and treatment planning (if applicable), consultation, intake interviews, programming responsibilities, case management (if applicable), administrative responsibilities, and other job duties required by a professional counselor in that setting.

Practicum Student – a SRSU student currently completing their practicum field site experience at an approved professional site.

Site Supervisor or Host Supervisor - a designated counseling professional; this professional provides the direct, weekly, one-on-one, site supervision (minimally for 1 hour/week) for the Intern’s counseling cases, programming, and administrative responsibilities. This individual provides practical training and assigns the work duties for the Intern at the site and works closely with the practicum Instructor/Supervisor.

Practicum Instructor/Supervisor - a SRSU professor; this person maintains direct contact with the On-Site Supervisor, as well as the Practicum Student. This individual is ultimately responsible for providing feedback, evaluation, and assigning a course grade for an intern’s clinical/practical training.
Practicum Field Experience

Prerequisites

Prerequisites for ED7316A Practicum in Guidance and Counseling will include:
- ED 6308 Advanced Human Growth and Development
- ED 5314 Personality and Counseling Theories
- ED 7303 Techniques of Counseling

- Complete NCE practice exam

During the summer semester, ED7316B will be offered for School Counselors who are seeking their LPC may enroll after they have completed their practicum 7316A in an educational setting.
Responsibilities of Sul Ross State University Counselor Education Program:

The Counseling Program will determine if students have met all of the application requirements necessary to begin the practicum and will verify completion of all practicum requirements necessary for graduation. Additional responsibilities for the Counseling Program are as follows:

- Ensure students pursuing practicum understand the nature of the program and the expectations involved.
- Oversee practicum policies, ethical practices, and adherence to standards.
- Provide orientation information to the site supervisor.
- Counsel interns as situations might dictate.
- Communicate with the intern’s site supervisor during the practicum.
- Review and approve all final activity logs in order to release final practicum grade.

Code of Ethics

During Practicum, you are required to adhere to “ethical practice” as described by the American Counseling Association’s (ACA) 2014 Code of Ethics and Standard of Practice. Student interns are required to print and have a copy of the code of ethics. You can obtain a copy of the ACA ethical standards by visiting the ACA website at www.counseling.org. You might make a copy of the ACA standards for your On-Site Supervisor.

Additionally, the Sul Ross State University’s counseling program abides by the content outlined in this manual, and you are required to adhere to the guidelines provided in this manual throughout your clinical training.

Confidentiality

Students are expected to maintain confidentiality of all information related to clients, as well as all information related to cases presented in practicum classes. This is the student’s responsibility regardless of procedures in place at the site. Students are responsible to know and follow legal and ethical confidentiality practices of the field placement site, as well as applicable codes of ethics. Knowledge of HIPAA and/or FERPA is expected. In addition, students shall not use any client identifying information in any practicum documentation. Students may share client information necessary for class in a way that is secure, legal, and ethical. Any questions regarding confidentiality must be discussed with the university instructor as well as the site supervisor.
Steps for Practicum Enrollment

Prior to the field experience students will be required to:

1. Locate a campus that will accept you as a practicum student and which is appropriate for your program. As you think about your placement, consider potential sites that offer the type of experience needed for your degree emphasis and career goals. Also consider carefully whether there is an appropriate site supervisor who is willing to provide the required supervision. It is the sole responsibility of the student to obtain a practicum site.

2. Consult with your advisor for questions or assistance. Your university supervisor will need to approve the site before you begin your practicum.

3. After enrolling in the class, but before class starts, contact your site supervisor to begin the background security check (if required), drug screening (if required) or any preliminary training the site requires. Do not wait until the class begins to start these processes as this may jeopardize your ability to obtain the required number of hours required in your course. Schedule a start date with your site supervisor for the first week of the semester.

BE AWARE that most students who wish to do field experiences apply to their sites mid-way through the preceding semester. Some sites require on-site training prior to beginning the field experience or only allow one or two students per semester. Further, some sites require criminal background checks. Such checks may take some time to complete. In some circumstances, criminal background checks may be arranged through the site. In others, it falls to the student to obtain the background check.
School Counseling Practicum Students:

If you are a school counseling student completing academic requirements toward LPC, your first practicum (ED 7316A) must have been completed in a school setting. Your second practicum, (ED 7316B), must be completed in an agency setting rather than in a school setting. (Student interns are not required to have a second practicum for the school counseling track, but may choose to do so to complete requirements for LPC track) This is to provide you experience in both school and agency settings.

- If it is necessary to have two agency placements in order to accrue the required hours, both sites must be approved by your university supervisor, and you must submit all forms for each site for approval prior to accruing any hours for that site. At the conclusion of your practicum, both site supervisors must submit the signed On-Site Supervisors Final Report.
- The clinical setting must be approved by the practicum coordinator and be appropriate to the student’s emphasis. You may not begin practicum hours until your university supervisor (practicum instructor) approves the practicum and has received and accepted your forms.

Responsibility for locating and securing a site is the sole responsibility of the student, as is being sure the site and site supervisor are approved. The site list is provided only as a guide and not as a guarantee of approved site status

Upon choosing a site, you will need to complete the following:

- Role, Requirements, Responsibilities of Site Supervisor and Host Site (Attachment 1)
- Role, Requirements, responsibilities of the Practicum Student (Attachment 2)
- Sign Graduate Student Professional Behavior Form (Attachment 3)
- Internship Personal Data Sheet (Attachment 4)
- Waiver and Liability Release (Attachment 5)
- Supervision Agreement (Attachment 6)
- Provide a copy of the site supervisor’s license/certification
- Professional Liability Insurance (See below)
- Proof of liability insurance form (Attachment 7)
- The actual copy of your Liability Insurance from the company you purchased it from
- FERBA agreement (Attachment 8)
- Print Pages 14-15 for site supervisor
- Complete attachment 12 as your coversheet for the above 11 documents that need to be submitted in Black board.
Insurance

Submitting your liability insurance documents must be done before you begin your practicum / internship.

To obtain liability insurance, one of the following sites may be helpful:

Texas Counseling Association (TCA). You will need to join the association to be eligible for their student liability insurance. Access the website at www.txca.org and click on “Join/Renew” to find the application for membership and insurance. You will be purchasing your insurance along with the cost of your membership.

American Counseling Association (ACA). ACA provides eligible ACA student members with professional liability insurance. ACA student membership includes liability insurance for those ‘enrolled and engaged in a master’s degree counseling curriculum at a post secondary institution’. You will need to join the association to be eligible for student liability insurance. Access the website at www.counseling.org. For additional questions regarding the program, contact ACA member services toll free at 1-800-347-6647, ext 222 or 703-823-9800, ext 222.

Health Providers Service Organization (HPSO). HPSO offers professional liability insurance and risk management information to a wide array of healthcare and counseling professionals including: Counselors, Physical Therapists, Occupational Therapists, Pharmacists, Fitness Professionals, and over 100 other healthcare professionals. www.hpso.com
Site - Supervisor Requirements

A site supervisor must hold at least a Master’s degree in counseling or a closely related field, appropriate credentials, and at least three years of pertinent professional experience. Site Supervisor has full responsibility for the supervised work of the intern, including diagnosis, treatment plan, and prescribed course of treatment. Students who are completing a practicum in a school setting must have an on-site supervisor holding a school counselor certification in Texas for at least 3 years.

Students who are completing a practicum in an agency setting must have an on-site supervisor holding a license as a professional counselor (LPC) in Texas, or a licensed clinical social worker (LCSW), a licensed psychologist, a licensed psychiatrist, or a licensed marriage and family therapist (LMFT).

Site Supervision Guidelines

Students will be required to meet with their site supervisor each week for one hour. Students will schedule a time to meet with their supervisors accordingly. Students should accumulate a minimum of 10 hours of supervision.

Site supervisors will also be responsible for completing and submitting the On-Site Supervisor’s Final Report (Attachment 8) to the university supervisor.

Responsibilities of the Host Site:

- Agree to the guidelines set forth in this document.
- Designate a professionally qualified individual to be the site supervisor for the intern.
- Provide the intern with guidance and related experiences that expand their professional growth and provide them with the required number of hours.
- Provide the intern with an opportunity to learn about the organization’s program and management functions to develop organizational insight into the mission and activities of the organization.
- Provide a meaningful experience for the intern regarding the host organization’s purpose, services, organizational structure, and operating practices. Practicum is intended to broaden and strengthen both skill and experience.
- Provide the intern contact with appropriate staff members and clients.
- Make available space, supplies, and other resources needed for carrying out the intern’s task assignments.
- Conduct evaluations in accordance with the intern’s program requirements. Provide a copy to the interns’ practicum professor.
- Ensure the intern operates within the appropriate ethical, organizational, professional, and legal guidelines for counselors in the setting.
- Notify the practicum professor immediately regarding any changes in the intern’s performance.
Provide in writing, special insurance requirements (i.e. liability), contracts to cover the intern during the contract period, if necessary. (Note: The intern already has standard counseling liability insurance for practicum as a SRSU requirement.)

The agency retains the privilege of determining treatment modalities.

Role and Responsibilities of the Site Supervisor:

- Provide instruction and guidance regarding diagnosis and treatment
- Provide support for professional development
- Ensure continuous supervision while intern is meeting with clients.
- Provide feedback to the intern that is timely, clear, and specific; feedback is delivered soon after an important event and is based on specific performance criteria.
- Ensure a safe work environment
- Help intern explore and clarify thinking, feelings, and clinical strategies that support client treatment.
- Challenge practice that the supervisor judges to be unethical, unwise, or incompetent
- Challenge personal or professional blind spots that the supervisor may perceive.
- Bring to the intern’s attention those personal difficulties that directly affect the intern’s clinical work and recommend a course of action to address these difficulties. (While the supervisor can recommend that the intern seek consultation with relevant professionals, such treatment will not be rendered by the clinical supervisor.)
- Be available to the intern at times other than the scheduled supervision slot. Intern should obtain phone numbers of their clinical supervisor where they can be reached in case of emergency.
- Orient the intern to the work situation and be available for consultation as needed.
- Participate in the development of the interns goals for the practicum experience.
- Keep records of supervision, including any supervision plan, dates of supervision, notes regarding supervision, including specific clients and cases reviewed.
- Furnish the intern with all the required signatures and documentation necessary to maintain and complete the practicum.
- Provide 1 hour of clinical supervision every week, for a minimum total of 10 hours. If this clinical supervision takes place in a group setting the number of interns should not exceed 6 interns.
- Participate in meetings with practicum instructor.

Responsibilities and Expectations of the Practicum Student to the Sul Ross State University Counselor Education Program:

As previously stated, the intern assumes sole responsibility for locating a practicum site and meeting all approval requirements to begin the practicum. The practicum professor is available for consultation and can assist with most issues. Practicum students’ primary responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Complete the Step-by-Step Directions for Gaining Approval to Begin the Practicum Experience located in this manual.
- Maintain professional liability insurance, which is the responsibility of the student to purchase.
- Intern will download and read the ACA code of ethics, www.counseling.org/Resources/CodOfEthics/TP/HOME/CT2.aspx
- Ensure that the proposed supervisor in the practicum placement meets or exceeds SRSU requirements.
- Comply with all reporting and documentation requirements for the practicum and do not begin obtaining hours until you have been approved and the first day of the semester begins.
- Maintain activity logs signed by the intern and site supervisor and submit to practicum professor on designated due dates.
- On the designated due date, the intern must submit through Blackboard signed & dated copies of the activity logs to the practicum professor. The practicum professor will review the logs and verify the calculation of hours. Intern must retain the original activity logs for their records. Missing or late submissions of documents will result in failure of the practicum.
- On the designated due date, the intern must submit through Blackboard signed and dated three reflections of the student’s experiences and self-evaluations forms. Missing or late submissions of documents will result in failure of the practicum.
- On the designated due date, the intern must submit through Blackboard a completed Supervisor’s Evaluation to the practicum professor. Missing or late submissions of documents will result in failure of the practicum.
- Complete the required hours for the practicum course. If the intern is in danger of not accumulating the required hours or failing a practicum course, contact the practicum professor immediately to discuss options. Failure to do so may result in the intern having to retake the course at the interns own expense.
Practicum Student’s Responsibilities Related to the Hosting Campus and Site Supervisor:

As you engage in the practicum, you serve as a representative of Sul Ross State University. Through your interactions and performance, you will be demonstrating to many professionals and members of the general population what Sul Ross State University is all about and the special qualities the university interns bring to their organization. Additionally, you must be professional at all times, in all interactions, and especially with those whom you are serving. The goal is for SRSU counseling practicum students to be role models within the counseling profession. To that end, the following are guidelines to assist you through your practicum experience.

− Conduct yourself in a professional manner at all times. Practicum students must operate according to site guidelines, procedures, and supervision as well as the state and national boards of the profession. If a supervisor gives a directive that appears to be in conflict with the practicum student’s values or ethics, or creates a personal conflict, which cannot be resolved in ordinary communication with the supervisor, the practicum student must immediately contact the practicum professor to set up a telephone conference.
  --It is your responsibility to report in a timely manner. If you are in doubt on if an incident should be reported; report it anyway. Your supervisor and practicum instructor’s licenses are on the line.
  --Treat clients and peers as individuals deserving of respect.
  − Carry out all responsibilities as specified in the practicum manual and all host site requirements (case notes and other paperwork).
  − Arrive on time and work the scheduled times, which includes giving adequate notice if unable to be onsite as scheduled.
  − Dress appropriately for the agency and/or activity and adhere to the host sites dress code.
  − Discuss with your supervisor the goals and/or skills you would like to attain
  − Be prepared, both for sessions with clients as well as for supervision. Interns should attend supervision with an agenda of cases and/or clinical issues that need to be addressed.
  − Be receptive to guidance and instruction from your supervisor, that is, be attentive to feedback and suggestions from your supervisor, and follow through on such instructions promptly. It may be necessary to take notes during supervision in order to execute all instructions identified by your supervisor.
  − Inform your supervisor of any difficulties you are having in the areas of delivering services to clients, completing paperwork, or coordinating professionally with other agencies or staff.

--Honor all arrangements with the host sites and client’s regardless of whether they have completed the required hours for the practicum. Interns who are asked to leave a host site for unprofessional or unethical behavior may be dropped from the course and/or receive a failing grade. In addition, such an occurrence may lead to other departmental proceedings.

Always remember:

- Seek supervision whenever you are uncertain about a situation. In an emergency situation with the client in your office, make every attempt to contact your supervisor or other on-site licensed clinicians before taking action with that client. If your supervisor cannot be reached, contact one of the other site supervisors. You may consult informally with experienced counselors at your site, but your site supervisor MUST be kept abreast of all emergencies.

- Practicum students must advise their clinical supervisor of all-important changes in a case. The results of new assessments must be reviewed with your supervisor at the earliest opportunity to confirm treatment planning. Any changes to the treatment plan must be reviewed with your supervisor BEFORE they are presented to the client. Consult with your supervisor about case closures in advance of closing the case, including the implementation of strategies that may result in a client deciding to terminate treatment.

- Keep your supervisor informed about clients who are suicidal, homicidal, or threatening harm to others. Notify your supervisor about clients who are involved in child custody disputes, disability determination assessment, or any other matters that affects the client's legal status. Under State law, you have a duty to protect and report.

- Maintaining client confidentiality is ethically and legally mandated by state and federal regulations. This includes information that any individual is in fact a client at the site as well as any identifying information. Access to client information should only be attempted with the explicit permission of supervisors, and only as needed for facilitation of treatment. It is the intern’s responsibility to know and follow legal and ethical confidentiality practices of the host site as well as applicable codes of ethics. Knowledge of HIPAA and/or FERPA is expected. Any questions regarding confidentiality must be discussed with the practicum instructor as well as the site supervisor.

- Practicum students will not engage in dual relationships with clients; counselors will not knowingly participate in a dual relationship with a client, nor will they provide services to clients they know from other context, such as friends or acquaintances. In the event that someone you know is being seen at the agency, you are expected to remove yourself from situations where the client's treatment and progress are being reviewed. It is your responsibility to alert your supervisor to such situations.

- Practicum students are responsible for ensuring that all clients are informed of the supervised nature of the work of the intern, and of the ultimate professional responsibility of the supervisor.

- Practicum students must adhere to the ACA Code of Ethics.
Practicum Student’s Responsibility to Self

The Counselor Education Department at Sul Ross State University is strongly committed to the idea that the personhood of the counselor is a necessary component of the counseling process. Research continues to indicate that the relationship between the counselor and client is a primary contributor to effective outcomes in counseling. Thus, personal qualities, characteristics, experiences, and reactions of counselors are as important as knowledge and skills in working effectively with clients. Personal development is a fundamental part of the counseling program. Much of the coursework in the department will require active engagement in self-reflection. This is particularly true in your practicum. Students are expected to take the necessary emotional risks for personal growth and self-awareness as well as to be able to effectively utilize critiques from faculty and peers. Emotional safety of students is important to faculty and every effort to ensure that safety will be made; however, safety differs from comfort. Students are expected to stretch themselves by identifying biases and assumptions, participating in activities that encourage personal reflection and self-knowledge, receiving feedback from faculty and peers, and using feedback to address barriers to effective counseling practice.

I understand that if I fail to comply with the course requirements, I will be dropped from the practicum.

The professional behavior of students in the Master of Education in Counseling Program reflects not only on the individual student but also upon the training institution and the profession. How the student carries him or herself as a counselor will be viewed by others as characteristic of other counselors in the field. It is for this reason, that the Sul Ross State University Masters of Education in Counseling program closely examines the professional demeanor of students in the Counseling Program.

The following list is a helpful guide but is not all-inclusive.

Students will be evaluated according to the following criteria:

A. Knowledge of and adherence to professional societies' (American Psychological Association and American Counseling Association) codes of ethics.
B. Follows the APA and ACA ethics codes in relationship to appropriate relationships with clients and supervisors
   i. Does not have sexual relationships with clients or supervisors.
   ii. Does not accept payment and/or gifts for services.
   iii. Avoids dual relationships and seeks appropriate consultation.
C. Displays honesty and integrity.
   a. Maintains appropriate confidentiality of client information.
   b. Maintains complete and accurate documentation of client information.
   c. Does not plagiarize.
D. Shows respect for instructors, supervisors, colleagues, and clients in person, on the Internet and all forms of communication.
E. Maintains a professional demeanor.
   a. Maintains appropriate interpersonal communications with faculty, supervisors, colleagues, and clients.
      i. Works to ensure that verbal discourse is professional even when stressed e.g., is not:

(C) Standard II. Learner-Centered Skills: The certified school counselor applies the knowledge base to promote the educational, personal, social, and career development of the learner as outlined in The Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs.
The certified school counselor must:

(1) develop processes and procedures for planning, designing, implementing, and evaluating The Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs;

(2) provide a proactive, comprehensive, developmental school counseling program based on the needs of students, as set forth in The Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs;

(3) counsel individuals and small groups using appropriate counseling theories and techniques in response to students' needs;

(4) consult with parents/guardians, teachers, administrators, and other individuals as appropriate to enhance his or her work with students;

(5) coordinate resources, referrals, and follow-up procedures for students within the school and community;

(6) demonstrate proficiency in teaching small and large groups by actively engaging students in the learning process;

(7) participate in the selection, use, and interpretation of assessments and assessment results;

(8) use multiple sets of information and data to make decisions about students, programs, and services;

(9) use counseling-related research techniques and evidence-based practices to address student needs;

(10) advocate for a comprehensive school counseling program that is responsive to all students;

(11) facilitate learners' ability to achieve their potential by helping them set and attain challenging educational, career, personal, and social goals based on various types of information;

(12) maintain proficiency in counseling and campus-related technology; and

(13) use varied sources of information, resources, and practices to counsel students about postsecondary opportunities and college and career readiness.
Domain II

(D) Standard III. Learner-Centered Process: The certified school counselor participates in the development, monitoring, revision, and evaluation of a campus based on The Texas Model for Comprehensive School Counseling Programs that promotes learners' knowledge, skills, motivation, and personal growth. The certified school counselor must:

_____ (1) collaborate with others in the school and community to implement a guidance curriculum that promotes learners' development in all domains, including cognitive, social, and emotional areas;

_____ (2) facilitate learners' ability to achieve their potential by helping them set and attain challenging educational, career, personal, and social goals based on various types of information;

_____ (3) use both preventive and intervening strategies to address the concerns of learners and to help them clarify problems and situations, set goals, explore options, and implement change;

_____ (4) implement effective referral procedures to facilitate the use of special programs and services;

_____ (5) act as a consultant to help learners achieve success inside and outside of school;

_____ (8) create and disseminate literature or newsletters to all stakeholders that describe the comprehensive school counseling program and reduce negative stigmas associated with receiving counseling services in a school-based program; (9) establish an advisory council or board with membership of all stakeholders (student, parent, teacher, administrator, community member, other personnel, and support specialists);

_____ (10) increase public relations and awareness through community outreach, such as fundraising, grant writing, donations, volunteerism, local businesses, and use of public or guest speakers;

_____ (11) provide school-wide professional development and parent workshops throughout the school year;

_____ (12) support participation in fair-share responsibilities versus non-counseling related duties;

_____ (13) know district, state, and federal initiatives that are to be reflected in a comprehensive school counseling program; and

_____ (14) develop practices to promote learners' knowledge about college and career readiness processes necessary to pursue postsecondary opportunities.
(E) Standard IV. Learner-Centered Equity and Excellence for All Learners: The certified school counselor promotes academic success for all learners by acknowledging, respecting, and responding to diversity while building on similarities that bond all people. The certified school counselor must:

_____ (1) understand learner differences, including those related to cultural background, gender, race, ethnicity, socio-economic levels, academic ability, and learning styles, and know ways to create and maintain a positive school environment that is responsive to all learners;

_____ (2) advocate for a school environment in which diversity is acknowledged and respected, resulting in positive interactions across all cultures, genders, ethnicities, and learning styles;

_____ (3) facilitate learning and achievement for all students to ensure services that cover an array of exceptionalities, including special populations, by promoting a cooperative, inclusive, purposeful learning environment;

_____ (4) take a positive, strength-based approach that builds on commonalities versus differences in all learners;

_____ (5) understand how environment and behavior may impact or influence individual learners;

_____ (6) ensure equitable access to programs and services for all students;

_____ (7) understand how family values, group membership, and culture intersect;

_____ (8) acknowledge learners’ gifts, strengths, and extracurricular talents when considering the school community;

_____ (9) take a positive, strength-based approach that verbalizes commonalities versus differences in all learners;

_____ (10) effectively communicate his or her role and responsibility and counselor identity to all stakeholders to reduce confusion about the duties of a school counselor;

_____ (11) adhere to best practices connected to ethical and legal considerations around appropriate use of technology and email, documentation, record keeping, privileged communication, and informed consent process; and

_____ (12) facilitate access to and use of school and community information and resources related to postsecondary opportunities and college and career readiness by learners, parents/guardians, teachers, administrators, and community members.

(G) Standard V. Learner-Centered Professional Development: The certified school counselor continues professional development, demonstrating a commitment to learn, to improve the profession, and to model professional ethics and personal integrity. The certified school counselor must:

_____ (1) use reflection, self-assessment, and interactions with colleagues to promote personal professional development;

_____ (2) use counseling-related research techniques and practices as well as technology and other resources to facilitate continued professional growth;
_____ (3) strive toward the highest level of professionalism by adhering to and modeling professional, ethical, and legal standards;

_____ (4) apply research-based practice to improve the school guidance and counseling program;

_____ (5) engage in ongoing professional development to improve the school guidance and counseling program; and

_____ (6) engage in continued professional development experiences to learn and apply concepts, skills, and practices related to increasing college and career readiness and promoting postsecondary opportunities and preparation for all learners.
