Program Handbook
Dear Student,

Welcome to the Sul Ross State University Master of Education Reading Specialist Program and congratulations on making the decision to continue your formal education. The purpose of the Master of Education Reading Specialist Program is to prepare students in the Middle Rio Grande region and beyond for positions as Reading Specialists by providing them with a strong foundation in the theoretical and practical aspects of literacy. All courses require students to convert research-based theoretical knowledge into practical classroom applications as they relate to the levels of early childhood through grade 12.

This handbook will serve as your guide throughout the program; however, information contained in this handbook does not replace information from me, your advisor. When in doubt, please contact me with your questions or concerns. I am always happy to help you in any way I can.

Wishing you success and fulfillment as you begin this graduate school journey,

Gina L. Stocks, Ph. D.

Program Overview

Program Options

There are two options for students seeking certification as a reading specialist. Students without a Master's degree will work toward obtaining a Master of Education Reading Specialist Degree. Those students already holding a Master's degree are eligible for the Certification Only option. See below for a brief description of the requirements for each option.

Master of Education Reading Specialist Program
This is a 30-hour graduate program leading to a Master of Education degree with a Reading Specialist certification. Prospective students will follow the admission procedures outlined in a subsequent section of this handbook. Students will be responsible for completing all required coursework (which includes a 160-hour practicum), a comprehensive oral exam, a university- required reading specialist practice examination, and a state-mandated reading specialist certification examination.

Certification Only/Non-degree Program
This option is for students already holding a Master's degree in education or a related field from an accredited college or university. The Certification Only student will be responsible for completing the 21-semester hour Reading Component listed below under Program Requirements. The student must apply to the university and meet the admission criteria. Upon university acceptance, a transcript review will be completed by the Chair of the Department of Education to determine proficiency. Additional coursework may be required if an acceptable level of proficiency is not demonstrated by previous coursework and experience.
Admission

Test Timeline: TExES 151 Reading Specialist Exam expires on March 25, 2021. All students enrolled prior to Fall 2019, will need to plan to take the TExES 151 prior to March 25, 2021. Students admitted in Fall of 2019 and beyond will be prepared to take the TExES 251 exam, which begins March 26, 2021.

Degree Plan/Certification Plan
A degree plan will be developed once the student is accepted into the program. This degree plan will be sent to the student with the departmental letter of acceptance, along with a copy of the Educator's Code of Ethics and the Statement of Affirmation and a program handbook verification form.
Students should keep a copy of their signed degree plan for their records. Students seeking a Master's degree will have a degree plan, while students seeking certification only will have a certification plan. Both are developed upon entering the program because they serve as the primary tool for advisement. It is the student's responsibility to keep the degree/certification plan updated after each semester.

Comprehensive Examination
Graduation requirements for students in the RGC reading specialist program include a comprehensive examination. Students will apply for exams during their last semester of coursework. Students can select up to three faculty members to serve on their committee. Dr. Stocks will serve as the committee chair.

Break in Enrollment
Non-enrollment for the period of one long semester will result in official removal from the program and TEA. This will also require that a student reapply to the university as well as the Education department upon return.

Practicum/Field-Based Experience
Reading specialist students must complete a 160-hour practicum in a TEA accredited school. The practicum experience is expected to the last full semester of enrollment. This course is offered both Spring and Fall semesters and is designed to allow students opportunities to put into practice the knowledge gained throughout the program. All of the reading standards and competencies will be demonstrated by the Reading Specialist Interns through planning and conducting a reading intervention project following the new Reading Specialist Texas standards.
The practicum does contain a case study component focusing on an elementary or secondary struggling reader, which is a requirement for completing the practicum. The case study experience will build upon previous course content.

Prior to beginning the practicum, it is the responsibility of the reading specialist candidate to secure a certified reading specialist who will agree to act as a site supervisor, locate a TEA accredited school in which to conduct the field-based experience, and obtain approval from the principal of the school to complete the practicum therein; however, final approval of these arrangements will be made by the major advisor. Candidates are required to submit to the major advisor request letters that will be presented to the potential site supervisor and school principal. These letters will outline the purpose of the practicum and the responsibilities of the site supervisor and principal. Upon approval of the requests by the major advisor, the reading specialist intern will submit the requests to the potential site supervisor and campus principal. Prior to beginning the practicum, these letters of request must be signed by the site supervisor and the principal and submitted to the major advisor. The site supervisor is required to complete a short supervising/mentoring training module.

During the practicum, a minimum of 30 clock hours will be designated as one-on-one teaching sessions with the case study student. The remaining 130 hours will document communication between the site supervisor, the principal, field supervisor, case study family and the reading specialist candidate. As well, the candidate will administer and interpret diagnostic assessments, plan and conduct an intervention program, and document the reading development of the intervention student.
The practicum student will maintain two logs during the practicum. The first log will detail the one-on-one intervention conducted with the case study student (Intervention Log). The second log will detail 130 hours of professional experience the candidate has gained that explicitly mimic the expected behaviors and activities demonstrated by reading specialists. Both logs are to be verified by the site supervisor or campus principal/director. Be mindful that the practicum experience will require, in addition to your typical work week, approximately 10 hours of attention.

Students will include in the practicum case-study lesson plans and reflections from intervention experiences. The final case study along with intervention logs, preparation logs, and required paperwork will be submitted in Bb as well as discussed in conferences with the university field supervisor.

The reading specialist candidate can expect one onsite and two electronic observations to assess progress and compliance during the practicum. These observations will be conducted by the university field supervisor. In conjunction with the onsite observations it is the responsibility of the reading specialist candidate to arrange a meeting between the site supervisor and the university supervisor. It is also the responsibility of the reading specialist candidate to facilitate the completion, collection, and submission to the university field supervisor progress reports from the site supervisor at the mid-semester point and end-of-semester. Additional information regarding documentation of the practicum will be provided in Blackboard upon enrollment in EDUC 7312.

Background Checks

Many school districts require a criminal history background check before granting access to the campus. It is the responsibility of the student to provide the hosting school district with the information required and pay any fees associated with the background checks. If you are completing the practicum experience on the campus in which you work, this will not be an additional requirement.

Course Sequence

Several of the required courses are only offered once a year; therefore, it is important to plan the sequence in which you take the courses carefully. By taking two courses during the long semesters and two courses during each summer session, the program can be completed within two years; however, students are allowed up to five years in which to complete the program. Your major advisor is available for consultation when planning your course sequence.

Testing Course
EDUC 7312 Practicum in Reading is the capstone course and is offered Fall and Spring semesters. Due to the rigor of this course along with the requirement to pass the practice exam for test approval, the official exam, and complete oral exams during the last semester, approval to take courses simultaneous with the practicum will not be approved.

Graduation (Master's Students Only)
Students should be aware of the deadlines for graduation and submit the necessary forms and paperwork. Graduation applications forms can be found on the SRSU webpage.
PROFESSIONAL TESTING & CERTIFICATION

To become certified as a Texas Reading Specialist all reading specialist candidates will be required to take and pass the state certification examination, referred to as the TExES 151 Reading Specialist Test (if admitted prior to Fall of 2020) or the TExES 251 Reading Specialist Test (if admitted Fall of 2019 and beyond). Information is provided below regarding testing requirements for reading specialist candidates.

Official EPP Test Approval Process: Certify Teacher Practice Exam
All students in the program are required to purchase the online test preparation software selected by the Education Department in order to prepare for the TExES 151 or 251 exam. Further information can be obtained by calling the Certification and Test Coordinator, Susan Land at (830) 279-3041 or emailing her at sharper@sulross.edu.

It is the responsibility of the reading specialist candidate to obtain the educator standards for Texas Reading Specialists. We encourage that all candidates review the free Pearson preparation manual prior to seeking formal test approval. In the last semester of courses, the candidate should request test approval. Once the minimum level of proficiency is scored on the practice test (260 points), approval will be granted to the candidate to register for the TExES 151 or TExES 251 test.

Students are responsible for the purchase of online software that is required for test approval.
TExES 151 Certification Test
Reading specialist candidates are advised to take the TExES 151 Reading Specialist Test as soon as they are given granted approval by SRSU. After 30 days your approval will be removed.

If the TExES 151 is not passed, a remediation plan will be developed prior to approval to retest. This may include additional coursework or individualized study sessions. HB 2205 reads in part as follows "A person may not retake an examination more than four times, unless the board waives the limitation for good cause as prescribed by the board." Retesting information can be found on the TEA website.

Master of Education Reading Specialist Program
Student Information

Instruction for this program occurs both in person and online. Expect that some professors will require regular class meetings while some professors will meet only at designated times throughout the semester. A portion of the instruction during EDUC 7312 will be synchronous (instructor and student interact at the same time though Blackboard Collaborate or Zoom). A portion of the instruction during EDUC 7312 will be face-to-face, but that will occur when the university supervisor visits the student for an onsite observation.

• Online students are subject to the same university policies and procedures applicable to students attending face-to-face courses on campus.
• The Course Syllabus and Calendar for each course is available prior to the beginning of each semester. These documents describe the course content, goals, assignments, due dates, and student expectations. Criteria for success for online students is as rigorous and comprehensive as those used in face-to-face courses.
• Communication between instructor and student occurs through Blackboard and/or SRSU email. Students can expect to receive feedback for their assignments within five working days and responses to their emails within 48 hours.

- Attendance policies in effect for face-to-face instruction also apply to online students. This policy is interpreted as not participating for more than three weeks in a long semester or one week in a summer session. Any student dropped for non-participation will receive an F in the course dropped.

- Academic integrity is crucial for online instruction. To ensure academic integrity, online students are expected to honestly identify themselves.
